Six-week friend

You have planned your wedding and made most of the arrangements – but perhaps you need a little help in tying up all those loose ends and would like the security of our assistance on the day!

The last few weeks of the planning process are often the most stressful and couples often don't find the time to relax and concentrate on themselves at such an important time. After meeting with you and going through all the details of your perfect day, we will work with you in creating an action plan of what else needs to be done, liaising with suppliers and your venue, creating an itinerary for your day, assisting with the final table plan, venue design and decoration, etiquette advice, support on the day for the entire bridal party, running errands, introduction of the speeches if needed, - indeed anything that needs to be done to ensure your wedding day is one you will never forget!

Fees: £350.00

Add an additional £250 for crèche services (terms and conditions apply, depending on the number and ages of children).
